MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

It's that time of year, once more, when the Club adds some decoration & splashes of color to the Levittown Library's main lobby. Running from March 1-April 30, we again have the lobby nicely decorated with quite a number of prints. Additionally, 4 display cases are filled with very vintage camera equipment as well as some enlarged antique prints dating back to the turn of the 20th Century. The quality of the hanging prints speaks well for the talent we have in the Club & the Library is quite pleased with the this year's display, as well.

If in the area, or on an evening when the Club meets, give it a visit. The area is accessed from the front of the building on Bluegrass La.

My thanks to all who submitted prints & vintage equipment. Special thanks to those who took the better part of a Thursday morning to hang the show. It's greatly appreciated & the results well worth your effort.

Best Regards,

Ken

PHOTOSHOP CORNER

Using Curves and Sharpen in Lab Mode

I'd been told before to try Sharpening and Curves in Lab Color Mode. I never did it, but I had this image with yellow flowers (below) that just needed something more to bring out the texture and contrast, so I figured I'd try it.

ORIGINAL

NORMAL CORRECTIONS

I converted the image to LAB mode, went to Channels and clicked on the Lightness Channel. This channel has all the tones, but not the color. I used Curves and Unsharp Mask on that channel only. The interesting thing was that this method brought out more of the texture in the flowers which is usually an issue with light colored flowers.

MAR. 25th

The Art of Growing & Photographing Orchids
 In Your Own Home
 with Bill Overton

The first part of the program: Growing orchids as a hobby. What are they? What conditions do they require? etc. The orchid family is the largest plant family on Earth with over 30,000 species and a few hundred thousand registered hybrids! There are literally hundreds of orchids that can be grown in just about any location in the home. Some may need supplemental light, but a bright windowsill will support a group of plants.

Also included will be a little information about what it takes to be an orchid judge, the training involved etc. and what it takes for an orchid to be awarded.

Second, how to photograph them: Bill will be bringing plants and a backdrop frame with a couple of colored backgrounds. Any member can bring a background that they might think is suitable and they can photograph his plants in front of their background(s). We can experiment with macro lenses, settings etc. Also room light versus flash and so on.

Wednesday, March 25th
 8:00 PM

NEW MEMBER

Steven Schneider

I'm a family man with a beautiful wife, three children and our latest addition, a Pointer Mix puppy. I grew up in East Meadow and now live in Williston Park. In 1997 I graduated from Hofstra with a degree in Engineering Science and am now working as a Project Manager with the Long Island Rail Road. My interest in photography started in 2001 when my daughter Alexa was born. I purchased a small Toshiba Digital Camera (1.3MP) to photograph her and have been taking pictures ever since. I enjoy taking pictures of my children, animals, landscapes and night shots. I hope to learn some new techniques, share my enthusiasm for photography, and make some new acquaintances at the club.

GOOD LUCK TO ALL PARTICIPANTS!

CRITIQUE NIGHT

On Monday, April 6th, we will have a digital critique. Please participate. Several people have asked to have more member critiques. We have tried this many times and rarely get enough images to have a full evening. This is really simple to do. Reduce the size of your image to fit within the parameters of 1024 pixels horizontally and 768 pixels vertically, save as a new image with a different name so you don't wipe out your original. I usually call it the same name but I add on "sm" for small so I know which image it is. Then e-mail your images to Ken. I would say that you could submit two or three images. We should get to two images of every-one and if there is time we can try to critique the third image as well. Be prepared to talk a little bit about what you had in mind when you took the picture and what were you trying to achieve.

Any image you submit for critique is still eligible for competitions as long as you haven't put it in competition before. You can certainly put in an image you have already competed with to get a better understanding of why it perhaps did not score as well as you thought it should. Let's make this a night of learning from one another and helping each other to do better with our images.
